When Dainties pined

Violets blew, and La-dy's smocks all mil-ver white, and Cuckow buds of yel-low Hue, do paint the Meadows with Delight. The Cuckow then on eve-ry Tree, mocks married Men, mocks married Men, mocks married Men for thus sings the Cuckow, Sy Cuckow, Sy Cuckow, Sy Cuckow, Cuckow O word of fear, O word of fear, un-

-pleasing to a married Ear, unpleasing to a married Ear. Sy

When Shepherd's pipe on Oaten straws,
And merry locks are Plowmens Clocks,
And Turtles tread Rooks and Daws,
And Maidens bleach their summer Smocks.
